February 2010 Edition

Letter from the Editor

This is our first edition for 2010 and my last as editor. We are very fortunate to have a new neighbor who has graciously volunteered to take over these duties so our venerable publication will live on!

Please join me in welcoming Cheryl Bulcher to the role as Editor and give her the support she needs to lead our wonderful and dedicated newsletter team to greater heights.

As you read in the February 2009 issue, we have decided to go to four newsletter issues a year – starting in 2009. As you can see from the cover, this issue encompasses all the major holidays between now and the next issue due out in May 2010.

We hope to be able to include as many upcoming events for the period between each current issue and the next one – so please be sure you are thinking ahead and communicating your future ideas or notices to one of the newsletter team. (You can see their names in their “bylines”)

Please be sure you are sharing anything you want placed in the newsletter with one of your newsletter team members well in advance of the deadline for submissions. We need any information you wish to be included in a given issue, in the editor’s email no later than the first weekend of the month of issue.

71st Street Gatehouse (317-327-7120)

Sledding Safety Tips

- Dress warmly enough for conditions. Sledgers should wear thick gloves or mittens and protective boots to protect against frostbite as well as potential injury.
  - Sled only in designated areas of the park.
- Make sure the sledding path does not cross traffic and is free from hazards such as large trees, fences, rocks, picnic tables, or telephone poles.
  - Don't sled after dark or when visibility is bad (like when it's snowing).
- The proper position for sledding is to sit or lay on your back on the top of the sled, with your feet pointing downhill. Sledding headfirst increases the risk of head injury and should be avoided.
  - Keep all equipment in good condition. Broken parts, sharp edges, cracks and split wood invite injuries.

NOTE: Report all park sledding accidents to the respective park manager or call 327-7615. Make sure someone has a cell phone to call 9-1-1 in case of an emergency.

Allstate has some winter driving advice:

Reduce your speed and take it as slow as you can. Look at the spinning wheels. All day do not use your phone or text on the road. They need your full attention. Do not use cruise control in a snowy situation, it can cause you to lose control. Don't slam on your brakes. If you hit the icy patch, turn into skid or spin and go with it until it stops.

10 Healthy Food Tips

Eat a variety of nutrient-rich foods.

You need more than 40 different nutrients for good health, and no single food supplies them all. Your daily food selection should include bread and other whole-grain products; fruits; vegetables; dairy products; and meat, poultry, fish and other protein foods. How much you should eat depends on your calorie needs. Use the Food Guide Pyramid and the Nutrition Facts panel on food labels as handy references.

Enjoy plenty of whole grains, fruits and vegetables.

Surveys show most Americans don't eat enough of these foods. Do you eat 6-11 servings from the bread, rice, cereal and pasta group, 3 of which should be whole grains? Do you eat 2-4 servings of fruit and 3-5 servings of vegetables? If you don't enjoy some of these at first, give them another chance. Look through cookbooks for tasty ways to prepare unfamiliar foods.

Maintain a healthy weight.

The weight that's right for you depends on many factors including your sex, height, age and heredity. Excess body fat increases your chances for high blood pressure, heart disease, stroke, diabetes, some types of cancer and other illnesses. But being too thin can increase your risk for osteoporosis, menstrual irregularities and other health problems. If you're constantly losing and regaining weight, a registered dietitian can help you develop sensible eating habits for successful weight management. Regular exercise is also important to maintaining a healthy weight.

Eat moderate portions.

If you keep portion sizes reasonable, it's easier to eat the foods you want and stay healthy. Did you know the recommended serving of cooked meat is 3 ounces, similar in size to a deck of playing cards? A medium piece of fruit is 1 serving and a cup of pasta equals 2 servings. A pint of ice cream contains 4 servings. Refer to the Food Guide Pyramid for information on recommended serving sizes.

Eat regular meals.

Skipping meals can lead to out-of-control hunger, often resulting in overeating. When you're very hungry, it's also tempting to forget about good nutrition. Snacking between meals can help curb hunger, but don't eat so much that your snack becomes an entire meal.

Reduce, don't eliminate certain foods.

Most people eat for pleasure as well as nutrition. If your favorite foods are high in fat, salt or sugar, the key is moderating how much of these foods you eat and how often you eat them. Identify major sources of these ingredients in your diet and make changes, if necessary. Adults who eat high-fat meats or whole-milk dairy products at every meal are probably eating too much fat. Use the Nutrition Facts panel on the food label to help balance your choices. Choosing skim or low-fat dairy products and lean cuts of meat such as flank steak and beef round can reduce fat intake significantly. If you love fried chicken, however, you don't have to give it up. Just eat it less often. When dining out, share it with a friend, ask for a take-home bag or a smaller portion.

Balance your food choices over time.

Not every food has to be "perfect." When eating a food high in fat, salt or sugar, select other foods that are low in these ingredients. If you miss out on any food group one day, make up for it the next. Your food choices over several days should fit together into a healthy pattern.

Know your diet pitfalls.

To improve your eating habits, you first have to know what's wrong with them. Write down everything you eat for three days. Then check your list according to the rest of these tips. Do you add a lot of butter, creamy sauces or salad dressings? Rather than eliminating these foods, just cut back your portions. Are you getting enough fruits and vegetables? If not, you may be missing out on vital nutrients.

Make changes gradually.

Just as there are no "superfoods" or easy answers to a healthy diet, don't expect to totally revamp your eating habits overnight. Changing too much, too fast can get in the way of success. Begin to remedy excesses or deficiencies with modest changes that can add up to positive, lifelong eating habits. For instance, if you don't like the taste of skim milk, try low-fat. Eventually you may find you like skim, too.

Remember, foods are not good or bad. Select foods based on your total eating patterns, not whether any individual food is "good" or "bad." Don't feel guilty if you love foods such as apple pie, potato chips, candy bars or ice cream. Eat them in moderation, and choose other foods to provide the balance and variety that are vital to good health.

How To Recycle Anything!

by Sue Gilfoy

Note: This article was produced in a format incompatible with the format for the majority of the newsletter – so it is not shown here as it appeared in th hard copy.

PAPER

Newsprint, junk mail, catalogs, envelopes ( even those with the little plastic windows) are all recycleable at many sites from schools to Walmart. Cardboard prices are way down so best place is Broad Ripple park(Evanston street back entrance)

METAL

All of this belongs in the bin: soda, juice, and soup cans(rinsed and labels removed), washed off aluminum pie tins and foil; and bottle caps, wire coat hangers, empty(nonpunctured) aerosol cans, and other scrap metal.

ELECTRONICS - are collected periodically in city-wide drives or see other listings under Keep Indianapolis Beautiful/recycle

DO NOT INCLUDE. .

BATTERIES = These can be dropped off at any Best Buys or Home Depot.

CANS & GLASS

Once rinsed bottles and jars are good to go. Cans should also be rinsed and have labels removed. All are collected at many sites like those mentioned above.

Recycling

Getting Simpler

Up to date information on where to take your recyclables

Every day, the average American produces four and a half pounds of trash - 75% of which is recyclable. Indianapolis residents presently recycles much much less but we are getting better!

The

mayor recently announced an effort to expand Indianapolis's recycling program.

Plastics Recycling

A big subject!

The basic rule of thumb: if it's a bottle whose neck is smaller than the body (beverage, cleaning products, shampoo, and some food jars) AND . . . has a 1 or 2 symbol on the bottom, nearly every program will accept it.

BUT . . . remove the caps first, they're made of a different type of plastic and can mess up the whole bunch.

ALSO . . . there are a couple things I want to add to the above. The absolute best place to take nearly anything in paper and plastic is Indianapolis Recycled Fiber at 1775 S. West St.

They take all types of paper and cardboard products, including office paper, paper board, corrugated cardboard, newspaper, phone books, etc.

AND . . . Indianapolis Recycled Fiber recently added bins for Plastics 1, Plastics 2, and Plastics 3-7, which makes them the most comprehensive recycling place in Indy. Most other sites only collect Plastics 1 and 2. And Plastics 3-7 covers a wide range of refuse that really cleans up a lot of our trash. Plastic containers usually have a mark on the bottom to indicated which type they are. Styrofoam containers are plastic 6, and can be recycled at IRF, as well as plastic bags from grocery and discount stores. So Sweet

Spring is right around the corner. Why not clean out all that "stuff" and fill up the truck or van and take it to be recycled, where it will be repurposed instead of just filling up the landfill more. *Thank you for being a good citizen!

Safe & Sound

“Keeping ourselves and our homes physically safe and financially sound”

By Denise Owens – Editor/Insurance & Financial Specialist

Tax Time is Coming!

We all pay taxes and they are certainly needed to support our infrastructure and keep our communities going and growing. A friend once told me when I complained about paying taxes:

“The amount you pay would not build you enough road to get from your driveway to the next major street!”

May be true – but like most – while I don't mind paying my “fair share” –

I want to be taxed only for what I should!

So be sure you are checking the IRS.gov site for more tips like the one here, to help you decide exactly what income is taxable; what credits or deductions you may be due, and perhaps consider using a qualified tax preparer to help you.

IRS TAX TIP 2010-25

While most income you receive is generally considered taxable, there are some situations when certain types of income are partially taxed or not taxed at all. To ensure taxpayers are familiar with the difference between taxable and non-taxable income, the Internal Revenue Service offers these common examples of items that are not included in your income:

- Adoption Expense Reimbursements for qualifying expenses
- Child support payments
- Gifts, bequests and inheritances
- Workers' compensation benefits
- Meals and Lodging for the convenience of your employer
- Compensatory Damages awarded for physical injury or physical sickness
- Welfare Benefits
- Cash Rebates from a dealer or manufacturer

Some income may be taxable under certain circumstances, but not taxable in other situations.

Examples of items that may or may not be included in your income are:

- Life Insurance If you surrender a life insurance policy for cash, you must include in income any proceeds that are more than the cost of the life insurance policy. Life insurance proceeds, which were paid to you because of the insured person's death, are not taxable unless the policy was turned over to you for a price. (Example: Viatical Settlements - a type of investment vehicle)
- Scholarship or Fellowship Grant If you are a candidate for a degree, you can exclude amounts you receive as a qualified scholarship or fellowship. Amounts used for room and board do not qualify.
- Non-cash Income Taxable income may be in a form other than cash. One example of this is bartering, which is an exchange of property or services. The fair market value of goods and services exchanged is fully taxable and must be included as income on Form 1040 of both parties.

All other items—including income such as wages, salaries and tips—must be included in your income unless it is specifically excluded by law. Note: These examples are not all-inclusive. For more information, see Publication 525, Taxable and Nontaxable Income, which can be obtained at IRS.gov or by calling the IRS at 800-TAX-FORM (800-829-3676).
